More Love Stories From the LGBTQ Community

Last year's story circle on this theme was so successful, we repeat it this year for LGBTQ Pride Month, with new guest tellers and the continued invitation to all in the community.

John Medwid is the pastor of First Lutheran Church in Albany, New York. His story includes many chapters as a Roman Catholic priest who has now transitioned into ministry in the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. In 2016, he received a Doctor of Ministry degree from New Brunswick Theological Seminary and he is currently pursuing an MS in Mental Health Counseling from Capella University. He is a member of the LGBTQ community.

Annie Reilly, a Michigan native, has lived in the Capital Region for six years and serves as the Associate Pastor at the Presbyterian-New England Congregational Church in Saratoga. Nikki Alcala is a Texas-born transplant who still doesn't love the New York Winter. She's a public health nurse working to improve the lives of the Medicaid population in the Capital Region. Nikki is a Jew by choice and is a member of Congregation Berith Sholom in Troy.

Come share your stories related to the theme or just come to listen.

Either way, you will be warmly welcomed!
