The Power of Story to Shift Our Beliefs

Beliefs are hard to change, but one of the best ways to do it is through the stories we hear and the stories that we experience. Stories are one of the most powerful forces in the world. They dictate who we think we are, what we think is right or wrong, what's safe and what's dangerous. What are some of the stories that you have heard or experienced that have changed the way you see yourself or the world around you?

Our guest teller Beth Sabo Novik is a teacher of religious school at Temple Sinai in Saratoga, a storyteller, a workshop facilitator, a massage therapist, a hypnotist, an intuitive coach, a speaker, wife and mom, and an outgoing introvert.

Come share your own traditional or personal stories related to the theme or just come to listen. Either way, you will be warmly welcomed!
