

The Power of Story to Connect Us

We are unique organisms living independent lives.

Yet when we share our unique stories and listen to one another with love,

we can feel our experiences overlap; we see that we are connected like tree roots touching underground.

Our guest teller is Rev. Abby Norton-Levering, the Ministries Coordinator for the Regional Synod of Albany, Reformed Church of America, and a part of the First Reformed Church in Schenectady. She also loves knitting, doodling, Crossfit and decorating Ukrainian eggs. Rev. Abby has been telling stories at the Troy Front Parlor (a local monthly Moth-like event) for the past year.

Come share your own traditional or personal stories related to the theme or just come to listen.
Either way, you will be warmly welcomed!

Thursday, December 7, 7-9 p.m.
