The Power of Story to Welcome the Stranger

*Not knowing when the dawn will come
I open every door... - Emily Dickinson*

Stories can help us to open the door to welcome the stranger in our midst. Our guest teller this month is Claire Nolan. As a Teacher of English to Speakers of Other Languages for more than 20 years, Claire has long been telling stories to immigrants and international students. Perhaps more importantly, she has been listening to their stories. Claire is a parishioner at The Shrine Church of Our Lady of the Americas in Albany.

Come share your own traditional or personal stories related to the theme or just come to listen. Either way, you will be warmly welcomed!

University at Albany Interfaith Center

Free and Open to the Public - Free Parking Available!

https://www.albany.edu/map/img/CampusMap_Uptown_2017-09-08.pdf

Entering campus from Western Ave., turn left, pass SEFCU Athletic Center on right and the Interfaith Center (135 on map) will be on left side across from field and basketball court. Entering from Washington Ave. take a right onto University Drive West circling the campus. Limited parking is available at the Interfaith Center, with more community parking in the Dutch Quad Lot, G on map; you must use the darker shaded area closest to the Interfaith Center. Using the map will help if you are not familiar.
